The Copenhagen Compliance® International GRC Forum (CCF) provides a world class platform to capture the global perspectives on Governance, Risk Management, Compliance and IT-Security (GRC) issues, strongly coupled with leadership & workplace innovation for your personal satisfaction and growth. Our goal is to prepare you to be active and engaged, gather intelligence about your eco system and enhance your contribution to the corporate world.

Copenhagen Compliance® International GRC Forum (CCF) responds to the general desire for peer networking amongst colleagues of various industries to exchange ideas, information and knowledge on Governance, Risk management, Compliance and IT Security (GRC) management processes.

With Copenhagen Compliance® International GRC Forum (CCF), you are also a part of a global think-tank.

CCF puts emphasis on professionalism of GRC activities; it is because of a healthy skepticism about the past 6-8 years with primary focus on GRC issues where the personal network can be the determining factor in different GRC developments. The Forum also takes into consideration the professional interests of its members and changing jobs/careers.

CCF will keep your front-line up and running, and address the GRC issues that keep your business on the fast-track to success by providing a unique opportunity to develop relationships across the public sector, private sector, universities & organizations. We endeavor to keep you updated on the professional or sector policy agenda.

Copenhagen Compliance Organization, its groups and meetings are characterized by the following:

- A strong technical GRC focus and content in the events and activities
- All meetings are chaired by a professional facilitator with extensive professional clout.
- We engage the strongest presenters to put up for discussion at the meetings on the basis of members' wishes.
- The general membership profile ensures that the perspectives across the sector/subject areas are affected and provides a many-faceted discussion and a suitable starting point for the exchange of GRC experience and between meetings.
- Network groups are independent of organizational and political interests.
- The meetings are confidential and under 'Chatham House' Rule.
- We promote both large and extensive networking and small and compact briefings on specific subjects. The size ensures that each Copenhagen Compliance event prioritizes individual meetings to match the current GRC concerns.
- Our model ensures - you and your organization get value for money..

We recognize that networks both within their own organization, across workplaces and in the form of personal social networks, are crucial for knowledge sharing within and between individuals and organizations. Personal networks are beneficial both in public and academic contexts and may be essential for job search and career change.

Target groups and meetings: The network is aimed at managers and key GRC employees who care about the political regulation of their sector. Network meetings are held every 1-2 months - six to eight times a year - You can see the network meeting program here.

Reasons to join the Copenhagen Compliance® – International GRC Forum:

- How many times do you say to yourself that you should meet more colleagues and people? That your circle of influence needs to be strengthened?
- That your GRC skills and talents have yet to be discovered?
- Every career and professional development requires networking
- In today's marketplace you must be more active than ever.

CCF does the networking and planning for you. An approach that is strategic and measurable with accountability and transparency as key GRC components. We believe that if we provide the platform for you to take a strategic approach, you can view networking through a corporate opportunity lens. The network can serve as a powerful professional development boot camp experience for you.

Networking requires 100% commitment to be successful in networking environments and to be professionally prepared to deliver value when called upon.

Networking is your responsibility and it requires active behavior and how well you integrate your opinion and perspectives into conversations and helps you identify the 'GRC dots of opportunity'.

Networking is natural and not a complicated art or science. Copenhagen Compliance® International GRC Forum makes networking to be fun, exciting and a satisfying approach to advancement. Our aim is to provide you with a positive outlook, learning, growing and thus developing yourself.
